THE CZAR IN PARIS

Gorgeous and Magnificent Reception to the Autocrat of Russia.

FRENCH CAPITAL IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE

Lavish Expenditures for Decorations and Entertainments-Extraordinary Precautions Against Any Attempt at Assassination --- Programme.

Paris. Oct. 6.-This city, the gay metropolis of the world, has been the scene of numerous grand and gorgeous Vetes, but it has been many years since anything undertaken in Paris equaled in the slightest degree in magnitude the scale on which arrangements for the entertainment of the exar and exarina were completed. The decorations throughout the city are superb and defy description, and money has been lavishly expended in every direction to make the visit of the imperial couple to the French capital one long to be remembered, even by rulers who are accustomed to displays of pomp and splendor at every move in their careers. During their stay in Paris the czar and czarina will use specially made earriages, while five cateches have been built for the use of the imperial suite. The coachmen wear long blue coats with gold buttons, red waistcoats, powdered wigs, and high hats. The berlin is a magmitteent affair, dark blue in color, lightened with red scroll work and brass mountings, and with large silver lamp- at each corner. Three gorgeously attired footmen occupy the back of this carriage. President Faure had an especially gorgeous turnout built for his use, and the sixty horses which will be used by the ezar and ezarina and the president were specially trained and exercised in the streets through which they are to pass.

A Million Strangers in the City. It is estimated that there are fully a million strangers in the city. The crowds are remarkably orderly and the police have little work to do beyond keeping country people out of danger. To-day is a general holiday in honor of the visit of the ezar. All the shops and offices and the bourse and banks are closed. Even at the postoffice the day is a partial holiday, only liveries of mail being made during the Georgeous Decorations.

Enormous prices were paid for windows and balconies from which to witness the state entry of the imperial couple into paris. The entire route was lined with troops. From the station in Paris where the ezar and exarine alighted all along the route the decesa ions are magnificent. There are Russian and French flags innunerable on flagstaffs, among the trees and the latter, being already bare of leaves, are thickly covered with paper nowers representing peach, almond and other blossoms, thus giving the Bots de Penlogne and other such spots the aspect of spring. On the Place de l'Etone there is an elaborate array of flirs and flowers, and all along the Unamps Ellysees are enumns forty feet Ligh printed to imitate stone. On the summit of each of these columns is a two-headed Unssian imperial racle six feet in heigh', surpor ing the imperial grown. The terrace of the Tuileries gordens is brilliant with dags and statues, and on the square of the Hotel de Ville is a double colonnade decorated with paper flowers. A pavilion in Museovite style has been erected in front of the Trace iero, from which the evar and exarina will be invited to view the illumination of the gardens on both sides of the river and the nreworks. There will be also on the Eiffel tower, between the first and second plattorms, a gigantie St. George in fire surmounted by a Russian eagle of electric light.

Dine at the Russian Embassy.

The imperial couple have planned to rea am five days in France and the programme as arranged is as follows: To-day they will dine at the Russian embassy and visit the Russian church. This evening the czar and czarina will actend a dinner at the Elysee, for which 200 invitations have been issued by President Faure to the presidents of the two chambers, the members of the diplomatic corps, the ministers, the commanders of the army corps and to the representatives of the great bodies of the state. After this dinner there will be a reception for which 200 additional invitations have been issued. After this reception the imperial party will attend a gala performance at the opera. The city will be brilliantly illuminated and there will be a Venetian | numerous prominent people enlisted Extraordinary precautions have been taken to guard the exar during his stay in France. He will be constantly surrounded by Russian and French detectives. Foreigners arriving at any of the places to be visited by the czar have for some time past been required to establish their identity, and many suspects pointed out by the Russian police have been secretly expelled from France, and special detachments of police have been stationed at all ports where nihilists and others were likely to land. In addition, the commission of public safety of Paris has organized a special service to supervise all the districts which the imperial guests will pass through, and their train will be under the charge of a score of the best detectives in France. More than a quarter of a century has elapsed since any sovereign, excepting the late shah of Persia, has entered Paris in an office capacity. Nearly thirty years ago Alexander II., grandfather of the present exar, and the then king of Prussia attended the exhibition of 1567.

CHERBOURG DISAPPOINTED.

The Rainy Weather Prevented the Czas and Czarina Appearing in Public.

Cherbourg, Oct. 6 .- The ezar and ezarina, who arrived here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and left for Paris late last evening, greatly disappointed the people of Cherbourg by not showing themselves to the populace, owing to the rainy weather, although the city had been profusely decorated in honor of the advent. Much admiration is felt for the czar's condact in remaining upon the deck of the imperial yacht in the face of the severe storm, although she pitched and rolled in the heavy seas enough, in the eyes of a landsman, to threaten destruction at as she came up the harbor under the escort of the French fleet was a triumphal progress. The enthusiasm of the multitudes upon the quays broke out time and again in tumultuous cheers which almost drowned the deepthroated voices of the cannon. When the ezarina stepped ashore President Faure kissed her hand, and he shook hands with the ezar. He then escorted the imperial couple through the driving rain to the apartments which had been prepared for them, where a banquet was served. Without tracersing the principal streets of town the imperial party and President Faure and his suite then started on the journey to Paris.

Several Houses of Refuge Established Years Ago Now Ordered Discontinued.

Washington, Oct. 6 .- Secretary Carsa has ordered the discontinuance of those houses of refuge on the eastern soust of Florida: viz.: Chester Shoals. Bither Creek, Grange Grove. These houses of refuge, ten in number, were stablished years ago on that coast, when along its entire length of 250 miles there were not more than seventyfive inhabitants; now there are 10,000 from the last report of the district superintendent. Six of these houses are still in operation. The honses of refuge are simple dwellings, not unlike those common in the south, with a capacity sufficient for the residence of a family, and for the temporary shelter of as many as are likely to need it. The distance between them average twenty-six miles, and at each mile along the coast are placed guide posts indirating the distance and direction to the nearest station. The houses are supplied with cots and provisions sufncent to succor twenty-five persons for ten days.

Maria Barberi's New Trial.

New York, Oct. 6 .- The second trial of Maria Barberi for the murder of Domenico Cataldo, her faithless lover, will be begun on October 13. Maria Barberi, it will be remembered, was convicted before Recorder Goff and sentenced to death in the electric chair. She was taken to Sing Sing prison where she was confined until her conviction was reversed and a new trial ordered by the court of appeals. Her case attracted much attention and themselves in her behalf, much of the sympathy being extended on account of her extreme ignorance.

GREAT DISTRESS TURKS

Inreatened with Starvation.

Loss of Life and Destruction of Property in Remote Sections Also Greater Than Was First Believed. Appeals for Aid.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 6.-Every report in regard to the storm increases the death list and the estimation of the property loss. The condition of the people in the storm district is appalling and there is urgent need of aid to prevent starvation. Advices from Baker says: "While the suffering in Baker county is great from the effects of the storm, the damage is also very great. It is estimated that the total loss aggregates some $250,000. Some say the loss will reach fully $300,000. This does not include the loss of cattle. which cannot be estimated until spring, Baker county being a large cattle-raising section. In consequence of the a' ove losses the county commissioners have issued an appeal for aid. Advices from remote points are new arriving and tell the same story of death and destruction. A special from Oldtown, Lafayette county, says: The storm last Tuesday was the worst ever seen in this section. Every dwelling in the neighborhood was blown down. also barns, stables and all the fencing around the fields. The crew of the steamer C. D. Owens are to leave tonight on their home voyage to Branford. They report the steamer wrecked in the lower part of the river, and that the steamer Belle of Suwanee is also wrecked near the month. The wreck of these two steamers will be a great misfortune to the people on the river. and leaves this entire section without any transportation whatever.

HOTHEADS CALMED BY THE POWERS

The German Ambassador Says the Demands of the Armenians Are Unjustifiable ... Turks Wrong Only in Their Manner of Crushing the Rebels.

Berlin, Oct. 6 .- The Lokal Anzeiger publishes an interview with Baron von Saurma-Jeltsch, the German ambassador to Turkey, annent the situation in that country. The ambassador says he does not think that the recent horrors will be soon renewed. The Turks have been somewhat frightened by their own acts, and the decided attitude of the powers has calmed the hotheads. Continuing, Baron von Saurma-Jeltsch declares that the demands of the Armenians are unjustifiable and impracticable. The Turks were only wrong in their manner of crushing the rebellion-that is, in not distinguishing the innocent from the guilty. Baron von Saurma-Jeltsch concludes by declaring that he has trongly warned the sultan that such a state of affairs as he set forth in the interview cannot continue, and that he must be careful to strike only those who are plotting against him.

Harcourt on What England Should Do.

London, Oct. 6.-Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, the leader of the opposition in the house of commons, last night attended an anti-sultan meeting at Ebb Vale. Monmouthshire. A resolution was submitted and adopted calling upon the government to do everything possible to protect the Armenians. In supporting the resolution Sir William said he rejoiced at the anti-sultan outburst in England. Experience, he added, had proved that the policy of Great Britain in defending the integrity of Turkey and preventing the intervention of Russia had failed. Great Britain ought in the future to co-operate with Russia in the east, treating her as an Asiatic neighbor and not as an enemy. The first step in this direction ought to be a formal renunciation of the Cyprus convention, by which, in return for support of the Turks, the lat-

Hritain. Sir William declared that he was profoundly convinced that it was utterly impossible for Great Britain to effectually operate alone against Turkey. He did not admire Great Britain's "splendid isolation," which, he said, resulted from humiliating impotence. He preferred to cultivate the friendship of other powers in a cordial, neighborly spirit.

Responsibility of Hypnotists.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 6.-Judge Foute of Atlanta has rendered a decision holding that the hypnotist is directly responsible for the acts of his subjects. During a performance at a local theatre a hypnotic subject imagined he was a monkey. He grabbed a hat off a man in the audience and bit a piece out of it. The professor and his business manager declined to make good the cost of the bat, and the hypnotat was prosecuted before Judge Foute upon a charge of malicious mischief. The judge sustained the charge, and bound the hypnotist over to a higher court., 4

The democratic candidates for the same offices in that territory will hand in their resignations. Both parties will then get together and nominate a fusion ticket. By these means the populists hope to secure a fusion man as a successor to enator John M. Palmer in the United States senate.

The Leadville Strike.

Leadville, Col., Oct. 6.—Gen. Brooks and his officers have practically decided to make provisions for defending the endangered mines by placing a cannonon carbonate Hill, which commands most of them. TEMPLE CUP SERIES.

bricles Capture Three Straight Games and Victory Is Almest Assured. Enlimore, Oct. 6.-The chances for the Temple cup resting in Baltimore his winter are very bright. The third game of the series with the Aeveland team, and the last one to be played in Baltimore, went to the home team by the score of 5 to 2. The champions need but one more game to capture the clusive flagon. Unless the Spiders put up a better article of ball on their home grounds than they have presented here, the Orioles are likely to make it four straight. Not that the vesterners have not played good, fast hall, but because the eastern boys are at their best, and for the first time in a Temple cup series have been able to give their opponents pitching of the very highest class, while Young and appy have both been out of condition. The teams will continue the series in Cleveland to-morrow, Friday and Satarday, provided, of course, the Orioles to not win and thus end the contest. Should a seventh game be necessary to decide the winner, it will most likely be played in Pittsburg. Capt. Tebeau has not yet recovered from the wrench he gave his back during Friday's game, but he is improving. The prices of admission yesterday were reduced to the figures which prevailed during the championship season, and 4,241 persons paid entrance fees.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET. The Philadelphians Win a Decided Victory

oven the Australians in the Final Game.

Thiladelphia, Oct. 6.—The cricketers of Philadelphia won a great and merited victory over the Australians by defeating them yesterday afternoon in in inning and sixty roos in the concluding day's play of the third and last match of the series. In their first nning the Australians made 121 runs. The Philadelphians then went in and scored 252 runs, and the Australians were retired in their second inning for a total of but 101. The result of the last match reflects credit upon the pluck and skill of the home players, as in the first two matches they seemed badly outclassed by the antipodeans. The first two matches went to the credit of the visitors by a margin of 123 runs in the first game in two innings and 71 runs in the second. By these a good lesson and by hard practice completely reversed their form in the match just closed. On the other hand the visitors priyed way below the form they showed in the first two matches and were as completely outclassed by the Philadelphians as they had been previously superior to them. The Australians left last night for Chicago where they play the Wandgrees club of that city.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

The Record for 1896 Now Promises To Be Unusually Light.

New York, Oct. 6.—To-day's Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin will say: "The fire loss of the United States and Canada during the month of September am unted to $5,200,650. This is a comparatively modest sum. and the record of 1896 to date shows a total which is about 86,000,000 less than the figures for the same period of 1895. Daving September there were 185 fires of a greater destructiveness than $10,000 each. Altogether, the outlook for a low record for the entire year is very promising. It is evident that nothing but a conflagration between now and January 1, 1897, can prevent the aggregate from showing a gratifyingly light figure."

Keerney and Haines Now on the Ocean.

Lotterdam, Oct. 6.-Notwithstanding the secreey observed by the police recarding the disposition that has been made of the alleged dynamiters Kearney and Haines, the conjectore made in these dispatches that they had been deported on a steamer, turns out to have been correct. It was learned tolay that the two men embarked on the steamer Werkendam a few minutes before she sailed hence for New York, and that they were escorted aboard the vessel by policemen who saw to it that they left the country. Both Kearnet and Hames are traveling under

VOTE IN CONNECTICUT

Result of the Town Elections in the Nutmeg State Yesterday.

GAINS FOR THE REPUBLICANS

Column --- Women Carry the Day at Willimantic and Turn Out in Force.

Hartford, Oct. 6 .- Town elections were held in all the 168 towns in the state yesterday, with the exceptions of Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, Ansonia, Derby and Naugatuck. The returns show that the republicans have made large gains over a year ago, when it was supposed high water mark had been reached, the republicans having nearly doubled their number of towns from 1893. In Hartford county in 1895 the towns stood: Republicans. 17; democrats, 4; divided, 7; returns show that the republicans have gained three towns and the democrats have lost one, five being divided. The license vote loes not vary perceptibly. There is one notable change. Manchester turning from license to no license. Middlesex county complete shows twelve republican towns against eight last year. In nearly all cases the republican vote has been very largely increased while the democratic vote has fallen off. In two towns national democratic tickets were voted for. All the towns heard from in Windham county have gone republican. It is probable that the complete returns will show that the republicans have gained at least fifteen towns. School consolidation was defeated in East Hartford and Glastonbury and was carried by Simsbury. Torrington gave a republican majority of 500, a much larger vote than usual being polled. The democrats carried East Haven. It was republican last year. In Norwalk the entire republican city ticket including the mayor, was elected by 175 majority. This is a big increase over last year. South Norwalk elected a democratic mayor, two democratic conneilmen and a democratic tax collector. The rest of the ticket is republican. This is a democratic gain. At Stamford the principal candidates on the republican ticket are elected by a majority in the neighborhood of 1,000. There were about 300 gold ballots cast. The women carried the day in Willimantic. They voted with the republicans, who got every office except the minority selectman. About 1,100 women voted. The republican majority averaged 300. In the town of Newton M. J. Houlihan, candidate of the demoerats for congress from the Fourth district was in the race for town clerk. He was beaten by a fusion candidate by two votes. At New London the republicans made almost a clean sweep by 300 to 400. Coit (rep.), for registrar of voters, has 381 plurality over Murray dem.). Waterford goes democratic by 60 plurality. Groton is republican by in. Stonington elects two republican and one democratic selectmen and a democratic town clerk, with one distriet to hear from. The no license majority is 301. East Lyme elects two democratic and one republican selectmen and the town clerk is democratic. At Waterisary the demograts elected a majority of the selectmen and town treasurer, while the republicans captured the rest of the officers. The inancial question was ignored. The owns of Woolbury, Bethlehem, Watertown, Middlebury, Thomaston, Wolcott, and Prospect went republican, and Beaconneld went democratic. Norwich elects the full republican town ticket by an average majority of over 400. Twenty-six of the thirty-five towns in New London and Windham counties, as reported, stand sixteen republican to ten democratic. The republicans of Stonington won a full victory for the first time in thirteen cears. Eight towns not heard from in Windham county are sure for the reoubbeans. There are increased repub-

Plusburg, Oct. 6. -Justice Green, in the case of Werren against Snyder, which involves the construction of the will of Christina Snyder, in which she gives her husband the income of her estate, free from any liabilities for his d. n.s. and providing that he should ducate Katie Glass Moyer, finds that the provision for the education of the girl requires a considerable portion of the become and takes away the characer or absolute ownership of the income rom the husband and without that quality creditors have no standing against any part of the income. The court also disapproves the position of the lower court in holding that a married woman cannot make a valid spendthrift trust for her husband.

Incidentally lie Calls Them Liars and Says They Can't See Straight-A Wild Engitsh Scheme - The Prince of Naples' Bride.

[Special Letter.]

Despite its terribly tragic features, the situation at Constantinople is not without its amusing side. After the Mussulman fanatics had murdered 5,600 Christians in cold blood and robbed every Christian domicile to which they could force an entrance, the representatives of the six Berlin treaty powers—Great Britain, Russia, Germany, France, Austria-Hungary and Italy-insisted upon a thorough investigation of the massacre. The sultan, in compliance with their request, appointed a commission, consisting of some of the most notorious. Mohammedan fanaties, and this commission, in an incredibly short space of time, filed a report exonerating the Turkish mob of civilians and soidiers. An official note was then sent to the six powers, which, in addition to the decision of the commission, contained the instruction that the ambassadors had misinformed their governments and failed to give a truthful version of the unfortunate affair. The half dozen diplomats, thus officially stigmatized as liars, at once commenced to exchange notes with each other, and in this pleasing, but profitless, occupation they are regard at the present time. Meanwhile the heads of the foreign offices at Berlin. London, Vienna, Rome and Paris are riving out hints about what is to be done with the "unspeakable Turk," the latest rumor being that Germany and Austria, with the consent of France, will insist upon the abdication of Sultan Abdul Hamid. Another report is to the effect that the young Turkish element, which, although weak in numler, is strong in influence, will request the sheik-ul-Islam, the highest religious officer of the Moslem realm, to pornounce the sultan insane and to declare the throne vacant. Roth these rumors are interesting, but it is more than doubtful that anything will come of

The British Lion Is Excited. The massacre of 5,000 Armenians at Constantinople the Turkish commission attributes to the strange folly of a Land of Armenian revolutionists who. armed with revolvers and dynamite bombs, took possession of the Otto man bank on the 27th of August, killed the police officers on duty, and held the buildings for some hours against the Turkish soldiers. The participants in this unique raid surrendered on cordition of their lives being spared, and were sent out of the country. The infuriated soldiers, maddened by religious fanatiersin, then began a raid on the en ue Armenian population, and slaughtered men, women and children, with the sanction of the civil and military authorities, until the foreign ambassadus put an end to the carmval of blood by dispatching an emphatic joint note to the sultan. A subsequent communication led to the appointment of the Thickish whitewashing committee and the porte's impertment question to the powers: "What are you going to do about it?" The only nation which has done anything at all is Great Britain, which has massed a powerful fleet within short sailing distance of Constactinople and instructed its andessador, Sic Philip Currie, to notify the sultan that a repetition of outrages against his Christian subjects would constitute suffleient cause for England to act singlehanded in their defense. The only action tal en by the ambassadors of the other signatory powers is the strength oning of the defense of their respective ambassies so as to be ready for a general Turbish outbreak, which may occur at any moment.

Dreibund Proposed by England. While England's aggressiveress appears chivalrous, yet it does not amount to much. Russia, which is really the dominant factor in Turkish affairs, adheres with Muscovite tenacity to the policy of prograstination and mactivity inaugurated by Prince Lobanoft Rostavsky, whose recent sudden death puralyzed concerted action. Lord Sahsbury knows perfectly well that the larst shot fired at the defenses of the Middletown Bosphorus by the British fleet would gaged.—Detroit Free Press.

embroil England in a war with Russia. and possibly France, and its present isolated position would make such a conflict decidedly dangerous. The English press comments very free!y on this international aspect of the crisis, and one journal, the St. James' Gazatte, suggests in sober earnest the formation of a new triple alliance, consisting of Great Britain, the Uzated States and Italy. It believes that the American people would regard with eathusiasm tan spectacle of the union jack and the sires and stripes floating side by side in the Bosphorus to back up the joint demand for the rescue of the oppressed Armemans and the suppression of Mosicin tyranny. This sounds very well, of course, but the American nation is not In the humor of pulling England's chestnuts out of the oriental furnace, and the formation of a new "Dreibund," with the United States as a participant, is a chimerical proposition. The Washington government will cortinue to protect its interests in Turkey singlehanded, and insist upon the recognition of the rights of its citizens, but it is not probable that it will take any part in the political movements of any of the European powers interested in the final settlement of the se-called "eastern" question.

State of Affire in Italy.

With Italy the case is different. It is a country or the verge of Lankruptcy. Its commerce and industry are paralyzed; its people taxed leyond the limits of endurance; its military prestige sadly impaired by the defeat of its Abyssmian acrey. In space of patriotic appeals to the nation the communated of the war in Africa el'ested co enthusiastic response, and the government has leen compelled to make prace with King Menelik of Abyss his, who is to receive a heavy indemnity in each and a guarantee that Italy will not attempt to extend its territorial possessions on the Red Sea coast. Humbasing as was the treaty, its insulting character was further accentuated by the condition that before its ratification it should receive the sanction of the ezar of Russia. That imperial personage, after some delay, gave his consent, and the doesment has just been signed in due form by the representatives of Italy, Abyssinia and liv-sia. The ire of the upp or class Italians has been aroused by this latest exhibition of Russian arrogance, and they are quite in the humor of partierpatury in a war against the Museovite empire, the success of which would restore Italian prestige and perpetuace for several generations the tottering dynasty of the house of Savoy.

Prince of Naples and Ris Bride, Viewed in this light the recent engagement of Victor Emmanuel, prince of Naples, and heir to the Italian thrope, to Princess Helene of Montenegro is a political event of much importance. The prince, who is now 27 years of age, visited most of the European courts a year or so ago for the purpose of selecting a bride. At one time it was reported that he was to marry Princess Maud, daughter of the prince of Wales, but that young lady did not look with favor upon her undersized v-oper. Princess Helene is described as a young woman of remarkable physical beauty, with large dark eyes, masses of the-black bair, and a dazzling, transparent complexion Like most Montenegrin women she is "divinely tall," and as her husband-tobe is "miscrable small" they will make a funny-looking couple. But in royal circles such little things count for nothing. In a war between Italy and Russia the cooperation of Montenegro might prove of vast advantage. Although the country has a small population (236,000), its fighting strength is not to be despised. Every man is a soldut and e pert mailsman; and in hard-to-hand conflicts the physically perfect and goverful Montenegims have never found their equals. Before the conquest by Soleiman II., in 1526 Montenegro was a powerful principal iv. Daily in the eighteenth century the people rebelled and established an hereditary hicrarchical government which was countenanced, but not recogmized, by Turkey. By the frenty of Berlin, signed July 13, 1878, the province was declared independent. The present tuler is Prince Nicholas. He has the reputation of being a profligate, a gambler and a heavy drinker, but he is a valiant figurer and a for not to be despised. His ambition is to add Albania and other Turkish provinces to his principality and establish a kingdom on the coast of the Adriatic. The marriage of his doughter to the Italian herr is therefore of as much advantage to him as it is to Italy. Each needs a friendly neighbor and reliable ally, and the proposed union of family interests s immensely popular in both countries. G W WIHPPIERT.

CHANG'S LIBERAL VIEWS. Feels the Need of Foreign Aid and Would

Weicome It. It is claimed that notwithstanding Li Hung Chang has shown some liberality of views toward modern improvement and education, he is at heart a hater of foreigners and has an abiding faith in Chinese institutions and methods of government, says Century. He is, it is true, a great admirer of Confucian philosophy, and remem--Our postmaster bears the title of | bering the enduring history of his people we can hardly wonder at his devotion to the institutions which have made that history possible.

When we call to mind the experience China has had with certain western nations, it might not be considered strange if his attachment to foreigners was not very ardent; but in all his publie life his conduct shows that he feels the need of foreign aid and is disposed to give it proper welcome, and of all Chinese statesmen he is the most liberal-minded and free from prejudice. He is far from claiming that the present system of government is perfect. He has, in fact, urged upon the authorities at Peking two important changes which look to a reform of the most serious defects in the system, to-wit, the withdrawal from the viceroys of provinces of powers which should be exercised only by the imperial government and such a change in the method of admission to the public service as will liberalize the examinations and make fitness rather than scholarship the test. There are other changes which he would gladly bring about if he had the power; but, as he confessed to Marquis Ito: "China is hampered by antiquated customs which prevent desirable reforms."

RELICS UNEARTHED.

An Interesting Find in the Harvard College Grounds.

Students of antiquity at Harvard college and many everyday philosophers are interested in a find unearthed within a few days on the college grounds, old Cambridge, says the Boston Globe.

On the site of some of the old buildings, being removed to widen the square, newspapers of the year 1500 and copper coins have been found. One of the tottered newspapers bears date of July 5, 1500, and the word "Telegraphe" on the title page. Another paper bears due of August 11, 1309, and the word "Constitution" or "Constitutional" at the top of the first page. The papers are bodly discolored from age and ex-

Some believe that the paper bearing the word Telegraphe was an early issue of the Boston Daily Telegraph, which is preserved in the Harvard college library as far back as 1824. The typography of the papers is in the style of the period of their publication, and quite representative in the matter of advertisements of the early business life and conditions in Boston. Politics are discussed with almost as much energy as the present day. As an instance, reference is made to Bamilton and Jefferson, the former being referred to in such elegant terms as "A notorious Jacobin, alias Democrat, alias Republican."

The eight coppers found have found place with the other relics of the Harvard college library.

MEN WHO BUY NOT.

The Reason Newsdealers Use Rubber Bands on Magazines for Sale.

The man who gets up early in the morning so he can have a look at his neighbor's paper before the rightful owner has a chance to take it from his doorstep does not stand very high in the estimation of the newsdealer. This is because he spoils trade.

There is another man, however, who is even more cordially detested by the vender of periodicals. He is the fellow who never buys anything, but has the habit of dipping into the weekly papers and magazines. The keeper of a newsstand makes a tempting display of his Titian hue, found it necessary to correct one of her little boys for some ture or even a pretty cover often brings ture or even a pretty cover often bring: him a stray customer, but he expects the mere looker-on to be content with this much, and he is likely to frow upon the man who resorts to all kinds of schemes in order to get a peep at the inside pages

The stands in the ferry houses and railway stations suffer the most from these penurious cranks, for there is nothing else to attract their attention while they are waiting for a boat or a train. They run through the leaves of the latest books and magazines, and have been known to draw the tacks out of papers nailed up against the stand so that they could see what was on the other side of the sheet. But it is not what they could see and read for noth ing that worries the newsdealer. It's would be willing to put up with that it it did not injure his stock. Indeed, he would much rather have a man take up a magazine bodily at 'car fully examine every page than to have him grab it by one corner and bend all the leaves in a surreptitions attempt to see the nietures. He would also rather have you ask him to hand you a periodical than to have you shove his stock all out of line while trying to see half the page that is hidden by a pile of other papers. So great les this ruisance become that the newsdealers have had to adopt schenes for their own protection. The most successful, so far as preventing the Laves from Leng turned, consists of placing a rubber land around titoo and Lottom of the marazine and placing it on the top of each pile .- N. Y. Journal.

An eminent queen's coursel once gave the following recommendation to a gentleman who proposed to swear a: afodavit after Laving already sworn at affidavit in exactly a contrary sense in the course of the suit. The merchant who finds times hard and his business unsatisfactory, the farmer who is forced to sell his products at ruinous prices, the wage earner who cannot secure empoyment or who has to work short hours and accept low wages,—these and all others who find times out of joint and the struggle for existence going against them will, if they consult them own interests, vote for Bryan and Sewall-There is no hope of relief in the election of McKinley, He is pledged to a perpetuation of existing financial conditions and will adhere to the policy that makes the rich richer and the poor poorer. His only nostrum for business ills is higher duties, which, while they may benefit manufacturers, will leave the farmers and all  ${f o}$  ther toilers in the same sorry plight that they are to-day. The only chance for the improvement of business conditions is in a restoration of prosperity to the producers, whom the appreciating value of the gold dollar is grinding down and oppressing, and they can only be made prosperons by a return to the money of the constitution and again investing silver with the same coinage rights as gold.

set forth in the Chicago platform and will east his vote for the candidates of the Republican party. Judge Clement announced, last night, that he would follow Judge Brown's example and decline to run. Judge Brown said to a New York Times reporter, last evening, that he "did not have a ghost of a show of an election? This admission will strengthen into a belief the suspicion which arose in many minds when Judge Brown's declination was first made known, that the possibility and probability of defeat rather than deep political convictions robbed his party's nomination of all the charm that it would otherwise have had. Had Judge Brown received the Republican nomination does any believe that he would have paraded the fact that he had broken with the party that had honored him in the past and would have contemptuously flouted its nomination? It is dollars to doughnuts that if he had received the Republican endorsement he he would have run on any and all tickets and his views on the political issues of the day would never have been obtruded on the voters of the judicial district.

The ticket placed in nomination by the Democratic city convention, last night needs no words of praise to commend it to the citizens of Middletown. It is not a straight out party ticket, but stands for non-partisanship in local affairs, for government in the interest of the peoplefor greater economy, increased efficiency and more practical results in the administration of city affairs. Blood is certain to manifest itself in some way and it often assumes a serious form. Right here in our own city Hood's Sarsaparilla has done a wonderful work by purifying the blood. Read the following: 'My little granddaughter, Mary Elsie McGuire, who makes her home with me, was so deaf three years ago that anyone had to shout to make her hear. She had abscesses in her cars which would break out and run. She would have these attacks for weeks at a time. It commenced in one ear, at first, and finally it was in both ears. The discharges from

I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised so much, had read of the wonders it had done for others and I thought if it would help one it would help another. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilia and she took two bottles. Boils broke out all over her and scabs formed around her mouth. Her throat was full of earlier and her blood was full of humor. The breaking out finelly disappeared and she has reout finally disappeared and she has no humor or abscesses since. She can hear now as well as anyone. My little daughter, Bessie, had a scrofula humor a year ago last fall which resembled canker or diphtheretic sore throat. I gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla and she has not had any since. Whenever she

PLUNGING INTO FLAMES.

An Invoterate Life Saver Speaks of His Experience.

How Policeman Bedell, of Brooklyn, N. L. Scorched Els Heels Saving a Life-Other Interesting Biographical Facts.

What are a man's sensations as he plunges, regardless of consequences. into a seething sea of flame and smoke? Does the heroic rescuer of some child or invalid from the horiors of a death by tire or satfocation count the chances against him, or does he cast thought and consideration to the winds and simply go where duty calls?

To the average man these questions would be difficult to answer, but there is one man who is as well qualified as any hving person to tell how it feels to race one of the most horrible deaths known. And that, too, for the sake of others. The public are always intensely interested in the motions of a hero.

That man is Officer Robert Bedell, of the Brooklyn police force. He is a hero in every sense of the word. From out of the very jaws of death he has snatched human lives, and as the fire fiend reached out its hot, enercling arms, he has borne the rescued one to

Policeman Bedell has had many terrible experiences; decidedly more than falls to the common lot of even a po-

While the Brooklyn force, like that of many cities, numbers among its bluecoats brave men, occasionally one, by some signal act of bravery, leaps at a bound to the front. True heroes do not sing their own praises, and it was with great difficulty that Mr. Bedell was meduced to describe his emotions when he plunges without a moment's hesitation into a flery furnace, holding his own life their that others may be saved. Fire men are valorous, but as they are paid and trained to fight the flames, their bravery does not merit the attention that befalls a man who of his own vol:tion makes a rescue. Mr. Bedell's greatest peril came not long ago, when he ran through fire and smoke to a secand story room, across the blistering floor, and rescued a tiny child, forgotten by her fear-distracted mother in the horror of a midnight conflagration.

He reached safety just as that floor made treacherous by fire came crashing ost on his very neels.

"flow does it feel?" said Policeman Bedell, "well in one way you don't feel anything, and still you do. I mean that at a time like that a man is so excited he doesn't realize what he is running into.

"Of course you see the flames lapping up everything in sight, and scenning to kap out toward you. You feel the burning heat, and your eyes are blinded, and your breath half stopped by the cloud, of smoke that roll higher and higher until they surround you on all sides, But you are, after all, only half con serous of it at the time. It is afterward, when you realize the scene, that it scenas more distinct, and the full danger is realized. "It is funny that a person's mind should act so much more quickly and sharply in times of danger and peril, But it always seems to-mine does at least. And you notice small things. ! know the other night when I went after little seven-year-old Fannie Walsh at No. 1307 Bushwick avenue, as soon as I picked her up it flashed into my mind that I had better cover her head with something to prevent her being choked in the smoke. I hurried to the washstand and grabbed a towel, soaking it in the water pitcher. It didn't take ten seconds to do it, but in those ten seconds my mind had time to note a picture hanging over the washstand. A picture of a deer wading into a lake. Lenvied that deer! I never thought of that pieture again until I saw one like it yesterday in a shop window. Then I remem bered where it was I first saw it.

"But it is all over so quickly that you don't realize much until it is past. I know the other right, I don't recall hav ing felt any fear until I heard the floor crash ochind me, when I put my foot on the ladder. It must have been pretty hot as I crossed back, for the soles of my shoes were badly scorched. But I didn't do anything much after all,"

This police hero is athletic and takes a pardonable pride in his prowess. It is well that his muscles are of steel, for carrying frantic people down ladders needs sinew and brawn.

SEABOAN A. WRIGHT. The Young Populist Who Wants to Me

Governor of Georgia. Scalorn A. Wright, recently nominated by the populists of Georgia atheir candidate for governor, enjoys the distinction of being the fast comine of the people's party of that state who has ever had any reasonable chances of success. In prevous campaigns in Georgia the gul ernatorial candidate of the people's party has not come nearer than within 25,0 totes of his depo-eratic optonent. This year, however because of a state alliance of the populists and democrats, the third partyries in Georgia har e some chance of electing their candidate.

For a populist nominee, says Leslie's Weekly, Mr. Wright is a very unique figure, being neither a farmer nor a poor man, nor uneducated. His father, Judge Augustus R. Wright, was a prominent figure in the Georgia life of his day and the family has always been one of means, with connections rather aristocratic than plebeian. Scaborn Wright is a college graduate, with the bearn g of a tragedian. He has a clean-cut face, long, wavy black hair, and the bearing of a typical southern orator. His greatest force is his cloquence, which is of the fervid, ringing type brought into pational prominence recently by Candidate William J Bryan.

Mr. Wright lives in a handsome home in the north Georg's city of Rome, and enjoys a fortune of a quarter of a mil-Lon Jollars Plantife was a Miss Moore, of Atlanta, and they have a family of four bright and interesting loss. Seaforn Wright has always been a discenter in colucal affairs, and his only service in o "ce was when he was elected to the state legistature several years are as an independent democrat. His fad is prohibition, and his campaign will be wared chiefly on that use. an issue which is expected to focular the strength of the rural districts, which roally precondenate in Georgia politics His friends hope that by combining the popul et and prohibition votes, he will be able to defeat his democratic oponert, Gov. His ouncer brother, Moses Wright, who was deted to the last legislature as a democrat, will oppose him in the coming campaign.

LOCKS FOR POCKETS.

An Invertion That Attacks a bacred Right of Married Women.

Another one of woman's rights has een attacked-the right of warch, the ame privilege for which Lighard contended in the war of 1812, and as Erg an I fost then so femininity stems about to lose to-day. A Chicago firm of wholesale crothers has invented a locked pocket, to be put in trousers, coats and ests. The full has captured male wearrs of clotines and luds fair to become opular. It is an attachment by whiel ockets can be locked, and any attempt to go through them will be foredoomed to fallure.

That the effort to introduce thes pockets is likely to be coposed by women is certain. The very means which the manufacturers use to advertise them insures thas. A circular issued by the firm reads: "You have been there. You have waked up in the morning and found your spare cash gone and not known how it has vanished. Your wife denies that she has been through your pockets, and you cannot prove that she has done so. You can prevent such ocemrences in future by placing our 'patent profection pockets' in your clothes." Aside from this claim, others are made for locked pockets. The manufacturers iny that they will prevent pocket pick ing, and that their universal use will force every criminal who practices the art to turn his attention to some other line of business,

There are no locks on the locked pocket, or at all events t hat might be alled a lock is keyless. They work with a spring by a combination which is secret to all but the wearer. If locks with keys are desired they can be employed, but the danger in such an event would be that the key might be locked in the pocket, and a man would have to go to a locksmith if he wanted car fare.

THE COUNTY COURT.

Jadge Beattle Charges the Grand Jury to Investigate Excise Cases-Call of the Calendar-Prisoners Arraigned. The October term of the County Court began in Newburgh, yesterday, Hon. John J. Beattie, County Judge, presiding.

Floyd H. Reevs, of Goshen, was made foreman of the Grand Jury. In his charge wards by the Democratic electors met in Judge Beattie called the attention of the grand jurors to the fact that by the act of 1896, complaints of excise violation, under the Raines law, must be considered by the Grand Jury. He observed that where the Sunday "hotel" is a mere pretense to enable the sale of liquor the proprietor is liable to prosecution by indictment and so with clubs.

The call of the calendar showed this disposition of cases:

WEDNESDAY. Louis E. Hanmore vs. Newburgh Electric Railway Co. THURSDAY.

Geo. A. Lamoreaux vs. Henry Van Cleft Susie L. McCarroll vs. Charles W. Weed.

Geo. E. Corwin vs. Oscar E. Jones. READY. Thos. Fulton vs. Alfred Frederickson.
